

Enterprise Reporting Optimization

Business Problem: The organization lacked visibility into report usage and adoption, making it difficult for leadership to identify redundant, underutilized, or obsolete reports and optimize reporting environment. Senior leadership needed a data driven view of report utilization to improve reporting efficiency and reduce unnecessary reporting overhead.

Objective: Identify which reports are actively used, underutilized or potentially obsolete.

Outcome: Created a centralized reporting utilization dashboards that enabled VP's and business leaders to make data-driven decisions regarding report retention, consolidation, and retirement.
